LAUGHING MATTERS

by Phil Callaway

Letter to Judah

DEAR JUDAH MATTHEW,

I'm your grandpa. The one who said to your parents, "Have kids while we're still young enough to take care of them for you." I'm the guy who almost drove over a cat while rushing to the hospital. I was that excited to see you. And here you are. My very first grandson. All 7 pounds 13 ounces of you.

I should warn you of a few things, Judah. First off, you have an older sister and two cousins. They're all girls. Girls are fine. But you will have to learn to stand up to them when they dress you in doll clothes and put curlers in your hair. You won't be able to speak up for yourself for a while. So I will say something to them. I love having granddaughters, but they are cunning and ingenious—and they're not even two yet.

They bat their eyelids, and I am putty in their hands. I'll do anything they ask. You will have to help me with this. We guys must stick together. I will not be like that with you. No sir. You are a boy. I shall paw the ground and snort at you. And after that? Well, I will likely fetch you anything you want.

I quite like being a grandpa. The job description is short:

1. Carry gummy bears.
2. Have time.
3. Love unconditionally.
4. Model silliness.
5. Model godliness.
6. When you set a grandchild down, don't forget where.

Other than that, there isn't much to it.

A word of warning about your parents. They are still pretty new at this parenting thing, so cut them some slack. Especially your father. If he puts your shirt on where your diaper should be or falls asleep while reading to you, he has had a long day. As for your mom, be nice to her. She will choose your meals for the next 16 years. She's my little girl.

A word about your names: Judah and Matthew. I hate to tell you this, but you were named after a scoundrel and a tax collector. Bible names from perfect people are tough to find. Matthew was a tax collector. He liked other people's money. He had people fill out forms. The forms said, "How much money did you make last year? Give it to me." Judah was a Type A scoundrel too. The first time I read about him, I was surprised God allowed him to be in the Bible at all. One day you'll be able to read the story for yourself. You'll see what I mean. But here's the deal. These are the people God loves and calls and changes and uses remarkably.

"Your names are a welcome reminder of God's much-needed grace in my life, of His ability to mend the busted and bring hope to the hopeless."

Your names are a welcome reminder of God's much-needed grace in my life, of His ability to mend the busted and bring hope to the hopeless. I give thanks each day for that grace because I've been a scoundrel too. I've needed forgiveness. Just ask your grandma. On second thought, don't. She just might tell you.

A warning about the planet you landed on—it's pretty dark here, Judah. The devil is not a fan of light. He likes to take everything that's pure and make it ugly. But God takes what's busted and makes it beautiful. Never forget: He is greater than any obstacle you will face.

Last night we prayed for you, committing you to God. He has awesome plans for you. I'm so glad He included me in that plan. After we prayed, I held you very close and whispered, "I will saw off a golf club for you. Maybe we can get out to the course together in about six months." You opened one eye, and I think you may have winked at me. So we have an understanding already. You've made me a very happy man, Judah. And you've yet to say a word.

I can't wait to teach you how to whistle with a blade of grass, make faces with a flashlight, tie a necktie, tell a joke, throw a curveball, treat a lady well, and eat ice cream until you can't stand up. But first, it's time to take these curlers out of your hair.

Your fan for always, Grandpa Phil
